

NATIONAL EDUCATION SURVEY

Parents and caregivers, we need to hear from you!

- The FASD National Education Survey will be used to improve the recognition and support of children with FASD in schools.
- Your personal experience is crucial to addressing the needs of students with FASD in our education system. Tell us what services worked for you and what approaches fell short.

Take The Survey

We know that students with FASD thrive with the right supports and services, yet so many children struggle with unmet needs.

We want to hear about your child's school experience.

Help us inform better practices and policies to support students with FASD.

Data from families is crucial to inform changes to special education services necessary to support this underserved population.
